Bisbigliando

The musical score is written for piano and consists of five systems of music. Each system contains two staves: a treble clef staff and a bass clef staff. The tempo is marked $\text{♩} = 96$ and the dynamics include ppp cresc. poco a poco. The score features several measures of arpeggiated figures, some marked with gliss. (glissando) and others with 8va (octave). The first system starts with a treble staff measure marked (8) and a bass staff measure marked gliss.. The second system has a treble staff measure marked gliss. and a bass staff measure marked gliss.. The third system has a treble staff measure marked [51] and a bass staff measure marked (8). The fourth system has a treble staff measure marked [51] and a bass staff measure marked (8). The fifth system has a treble staff measure marked (8) and a bass staff measure marked (8). The score is written in a style that suggests a continuous, flowing texture, with many notes beamed together in arpeggiated patterns.

This system contains measures 109 and 110. The right hand features a melodic line with eighth and sixteenth notes, including some accidentals (sharps). The left hand provides a steady accompaniment with eighth notes. A slur covers the entire system. The key signature is one flat (A $\flat$).

This system contains measures 111 and 112. The right hand continues the melodic pattern with eighth and sixteenth notes. The left hand accompaniment remains consistent. A slur covers the entire system. The key signature is one flat (A $\flat$).

113

D# E#

This system contains measures 113 and 114. The right hand has a more active melodic line with many beamed sixteenth notes. The left hand accompaniment continues. A slur covers the entire system. The key signature changes to two sharps (D# and E#).

115

This system contains measures 115 and 116. The right hand continues with a complex melodic line. The left hand accompaniment is consistent. A slur covers the entire system. The key signature remains two sharps (D# and E#).
